CURRENT MARKET REPORT

The fall run is in full swing with sale receipts growing weekly. High volume coupled with the high cost of feed continues to keep pressure on the calf market. The outlook is strong, it just costs much more than the average year for feed, which is affecting your prices. Slaughter cows and bulls are weaker because there is a pile of finished cattle coming onto the market right now. Once again, it is cow and bull season, so when you market a plethora of one commodity at the same time, coupled with all the other mitigating factors, it will pressure the market down. However, in most cases, ranchers are short on feed so it doesn't make sense to feed open cows or used up bulls until the price strengthens, because the gains in price per pound are going to be offset by the feed you have to put through them. I would like to invite you all to attend the Vanderhoof and area District Meeting on October 30 at 1pm in Houston. It will be held at the Houston Community Hall. Please pre register with the Vanderhoof Co-op as there will be a max of 50 people for the meeting due to Covid restrictions. The AGM for BC Livestock Coop will be held in conjunction with the Williams Lake & area District Meeting on Saturday, November 6th at 430pm at the Williams Lake Stockyards. Please register with your local yards if you plan to attend. A max of 50 people per event will be allowed.
