CURRENT MARKET REPORT

I hope everyone had a great Christmas and a happy New Year; I know that my crew was very happy to see a turn from the -40 to -48 weather right before Christmas to much more manageable temperatures. Mother Nature likes to keep us in check and humble. Turning to the cattle markets, feeders across the board are strong. Anyone that has backgrounded cattle into the New Year would be wise to look at some form of marketing in the near term, as we have seen a sizeable jump in the feeder market which comes as no surprise, as we did anticipate a healthy jump at the end of the fall run last year. So once again, I would reiterate that if you have backgrounded cattle into the New Year, you should be looking at some kind of risk management on those cattle moving forward, if you haven't done so already. The BC Livestock marketing team is here to assist you so please reach out for the various options that are available to you. Looking forward, the markets look very bullish and they are showing strength right into next year as far as futures and supply go. However, some problems could come with externalities that don't necessarily relate to cattle, and they could drastically affect cattle prices if they take effect; this is what one has to keep in mind, but for now it's full steam ahead in the cattle business. Cull cow and bull prices have taken a nice jump, just as we had anticipated that they would in the New Year. At this point, you're actually going to get paid for your winter's feed if you have anything to sell, plus you're going to get quite a bit more on top of that which is a nice change, and contrary to the way it has been for the last six years. One can expect cows and bulls to trend upward right into turnout. I would like to remind everyone that we have CattleActive 250lb mineral tubs that are 20% protein in stock, as well as Zesterra horse tubs in smaller sizes, and a whole range of tags and other supplies at your local stockyard. Please keep your eye on the calendar as we have numerous bull sales coming up this spring, and a bred cow sale in Kamloops on January 31. Furthermore, we have an added regular sale in Vanderhoof on January 27.
