CURRENT MARKET REPORT

Markets have been strong. Light cattle continue to set new and all time highs as feedlots and potential cattle grazers chase the limited supply into the stratosphere taking away most of any potential profit that might be there; this is the cattle feeders Achilles heal. Heavier feeders 850 lbs plus have come into line, and as I reported in my last write up, they have turned profitable from unprofitable, but still, the field of view for homes on these weights are definitely more diminished than the lighter cattle, this always makes you more susceptible for the vicissitude in marketing. The big surprise in optics has been the price of cull cows! Wow, cows have recently exploded, and we are seeing cull cows now bringing up to $1.65/lb at the high and $1.50 is commonplace, now, does that not make the rancher smile? ! One would expect the seasonality of the cow trade to carry on right into June 1, we typically demand holds firm right into grilling season. LPI (Livestock Price Insurance) is out there to protect your future investments, and BC Livestock is also here to help you with forward pricing if that is in your repertoire. Producers need to be cognizant that things do change fast in this world, and if there's an opportunity to profit, one should certainly look at that.
